

Creator Pro Launch

This memo outlines the key marketing activities planned for the first week of the "Creator Pro" headphones launch.

Public Relations (PR) Activities

Our PR strategy is focused on targeted outreach and leveraging trusted voices in the creator and tech spaces.

1. Exclusive "First Look" with Major Tech Reviewers: We will provide embargoed early access to a select list of 5-7 top-tier tech and audio reviewers from leading tech publications and popular video channels. This will ensure in-depth, high-quality reviews are ready to go live on launch day.
2. Creator Seeding Program: A curated list of 100 influential content creators across different platforms (video, live-streaming, and short-form content) will receive a personalized "Creator Pro" kit. This kit will include the headphones, a handwritten note, and branded accessories. They will be encouraged, but not required, to share their authentic experience.
3. Podcast "Tech Five" Segment Sponsorship: We will sponsor a week-long segment on 3-4 popular podcasts that focus on technology, content creation, and entrepreneurship. The segment will highlight a key feature of the "Creator Pro" headphones each day.
4. Press Release Distribution: A formal press release detailing the product's unique features, pricing, and availability will be distributed via newswire services on launch morning to ensure broad media pickup.

In-Person Activations

These activations are designed to allow creators to experience the "Creator Pro" headphones in their element, fostering a strong sense of community.

1. "Creator Suite" Pop-Up in NYC: We will host a three-day pop-up in a loft in a trendy downtown neighborhood, designed as the ultimate content creation space. The suite will feature podcasting booths, video editing stations, and a live-streaming setup, all equipped with the "Creator Pro" headphones for trial. The space will be open via RSVP to local creators.
2. Launch Day Live-Stream Event: Host a launch day event from the "Creator Suite" featuring a well-known creator. The live stream will include a product Q&A, a giveaway, and showcase the headphones being used in a real-world creator environment.
3. College Campus "Audio Lab" Tour: A branded mobile van, outfitted as a mini audio-editing bay, will visit two major university campuses with strong media and communications programs (e.g., top-tier local universities). Students will be invited to test the headphones, edit a short audio clip, and receive branded merchandise.
4. Partnership with a Major Creator Meetup: We will sponsor a prominent creator meetup (e.g., a local video creator or streamer community gathering) during launch week, providing headphones for a demo station and co-hosting a panel on the importance of high-quality audio.

Paid Advertising

Our paid strategy will focus on high-intent channels and platforms where creators actively seek new gear and information.

1. Targeted Social Media Campaigns: Run video and carousel ad campaigns on creator-centric social platforms, targeting users by interests such as "video editing," "podcasting," "streaming gear," and by their engagement with other tech hardware brands.
2. Search Engine Marketing (SEM): Launch a paid search campaign targeting keywords like "headphones for editing," "best streaming headphones," and "professional creator audio." Ads will direct to our main product page.
3. Pre-Roll Video Ad Placements: Create a short, dynamic 15-second video ad showcasing the headphones' key features. Place this ad on creator-focused channels and tech review channels on major video platforms.
4. Sponsored Content with Niche Tech Blogs: Partner with 2-3 influential blogs that specialize in audio gear and home studio setups for a sponsored "First Look" article or a dedicated spot in their newsletter.